FIGHTING FLAMES.

Desperate Battle to Save Trees.

Fate of Giant Redwoods Is Still Dependent on a Change of Wind.

Latest Reports from Scene of Fire Considered Encouraging.

Path of Blaze Is Now in the Direction of River and Out of Grove.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SONOMA, Sept. 2.—The Calaveras grove of big trees, one of the natural wonders of the world, is in serious danger of destruction tonight by fire. Starting from sparks thrown off an engine used to haul logs, on last Monday afternoon, the fire quickly spread to heavy timber a mile west of the north grove of big trees. All the forest rangers in the district were quickly gathered, and they, together with the settlers, many visitors living in camps around and in the grove, and the employees of the Big Tree Hotel, have fought the flames ever since. They have thus far saved the hotel, but have been unable to prevent the fire from gaining headway in a direction that tonight threatens the giant sequoias that have withstood the elements for thousands of years and been the wonder of innumerable travelers who have journeyed far to marvel at their size.

Conflicting reports have reached here as to the extent of the damage done by the fire up to this time. The nearest point of telephonic communication with the grove is Murphy's, some fifteen miles distant, and from this place today word was sent that the fire had reached the edge of the grove of the mammoth trees and, driven by a strong wind, was threatening to wipe out everything before it. There is little, if any, undergrowth of brush and the big trees, however, and it is hoped and believed by the settlers and rangers that the fire will not readily take hold of the living trees. The dead giants, however, will probably be destroyed. Already "The Mother of the Forest," a great dead bulk lying at the edge of the grove, is aflame and, like a great glowing torch, is threatening its living neighbors.

"The Mother" is 375 feet long with a trunk seventy-eight feet in circumference and it will take days and perhaps weeks for the flames to consume its great body.

IN BRET HARTE COUNTRY.

Up in "The Bret Harte Country," as this section of Calaveras county is called, because it was in this section that the famous Californian lived and found many of the characters he put in his books, the destruction of the big tree grove would be little short of a calamity.

The only living species of the Sequoia Gigantea or big trees are those found in California and there are but four groups of these containing any notable specimens. Of these groups, the Calaveras grove is probably the most remarkable. Its destruction would be a severe shock to the sentiment of the people of California and particularly to those who have lived almost in their shadows in Calaveras county. It was thought last night that the fire had been finally brought under control but this morning a strong wind came up out of the west and quickly fanned the smoldering embers of dead trees into live coals and scattered the sparks in every direction.

BOYS MAKE LONG TRIP.

Two Young Russians Gain Immigration Permit to Los Angeles.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sammy Rosenberg, 7 years old, and his big brother, Oscar, who is 16, will start tomorrow on the last of a 7200-mile journey, when they will board a Southern Pacific train for Los Angeles to join their father, Morris.

For the last month the two boys have been detained at Ellis Island awaiting deportation to Rynov, Russia. Orders came from Washington, today allowing them to come into the country on the theory that if they could make the long journey from Russia to New York alone they were worth having in this country.

which is the nearest telephone office to the Calaveras big trees, said that the fire had attacked only one of the big trees and that the grove of mammoth trees is now safe unless a great change in the wind comes, which is hardly possible. Murphy has a direct telephone line to the big trees and all news comes through that office.

The fire is out of the big tree grove and is going east and south toward the Stanislaus River. The south grove, which was threatened in the former fire two weeks ago, is six miles distant from the present fire, and in no danger, for the Stanislaus River must be crossed to reach it.

BIGGEST TREES IN WORLD.

The Calaveras group, consisting of two groves, "Calaveras" and "South Park," contains more and larger trees than any other three groups combined, there being 1280 trees from 45 feet to 104 feet in circumference in the Calaveras group, and 97 trees with a circumference of from 70 to 85 feet in the other. All these trees range from 90 to 365 feet in height. One prostrate specimen of the Calaveras grove—"The Father of the Forest"—was apparently 435 feet tall, with a girth of 110 feet. Practically all of the larger trees have been named, and labeled. The "New York" is 104 feet in circumference; the "Ohio," 102 feet. In the "Tree of Refuge" sixteen heads of cattle once sought shelter during a heavy storm. In the "Grand Hotel" forty people can stand without crowding.

MRS. HAINS SEEKS CHILDREN.

Angered by Threat to Put Son on the Witness Stand She Plans Seizure.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BOSTON, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Claudia L. Hains of Winthrop today conferred with her attorney for the purpose of devising a legal plan for the seizure of her three children at Fort Hancock, N. J.

The mother, angered beyond measure at the declaration of former District Attorney McIntyre of New York that he would place Peter C. Hains, Thad. Hains' 7-year-old son, on the witness stand for the defense, plans to get her children ad thwart McIntyre.

Mrs. Hains says she is determined that her own child shall not mount the witness stand and be questioned by the Hains lawyers in an attempt to blacken her character and thus in measure justify the actions of Captain Peter C. Hains, her husband, and his brother, Thornton Jenkins Hains, in the killing of Anna.

THIRD JURYMEN PASSED.

Work of Getting Men to Judge Ruef Case Progresses Slowly in San Francisco.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—A third juror passed subject to peremptory challenge was accepted today in the trial of Abraham Ruef on a charge of bribery.

The greater part of the day was devoted to investigation of allegations that efforts had been made by one of the two to interview prospective jurors prior to their appearance in the courtroom.

"KEY OF THE PACIFIC."

TO MAKE ISLAND OF OAHU SECOND MALTA.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Every effort is being made by the War Department to complete the defenses of Pearl Harbor and Honolulu and create of the island of Oahu, a second Malta—which means that it shall be impregnable except to the most persistent attack. Pearl Harbor has often been termed the "Key of the Pacific." More than $2,000,000 will be expended by the government in fortifying the position, which yields itself readily to defense. In addition to the $400,000 to begin dredging Pearl Harbor, preliminary to the creation there of one of the greatest naval depots in the world, various bureaus of the War Department are now hard at work on plans and estimates for the further defense of Pearl Harbor in order that they may be submitted to Secretary Wright by the 15th of this month.

With the defenses contemplated, the War Department believes that the entire Pacific Coast will be safe from attack by any foreign power and that the commerce of this country in the Pacific could pursue its way peacefully undisturbed.

TYPE OF TROOPS WHICH ATTACKED FRENCH POST.

VETERANS CHEER AS RIVALS SHAKE HANDS.

Taft and Foraker Reconciliation Takes Place Before Thousands of Grand Army Men—Wonderful Sight as Old Soldiers March.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

TOLEDO (O.) Sept. 2.—William H. Taft and Senator Foraker, meeting for the first time since the Republican convention, created a hurricane of cheers today when they shook hands with each other in the official reviewing stand as the G.A.R. parade was passing.

The scene of meeting between the erstwhile political rivals was a fitting one. In a prominent place in the reviewing stand stood the Republican nominee, flanked on either side by prominent men of Toledo, while below him there marched the veterans of the Civil War, saluting and mingling their cheers with the music of many bands.

Mr. Taft bowed again and again as the carriages passed. In one of these carriages sat Senator Foraker himself, acknowledging cheers from those who recognized him.

"HELLO, THERE!" SAYS TAFT. At the stand Senator Foraker, Senator Dick and Gov. Harris alighted and joined the line of men passing before Mr. Taft on their way to seats.

As the Ohio Senator approached and the crowd recognized him, there was a second hush and then a mighty cheer, which was taken up in the street and echoed far away in the distance as the Senator and the former Secretary of War shook hands.

"Hello, there," said Mr. Taft, extending his hand as he saw his fellow-statemanager approaching.

Both men smiled, and the crowd, fully cognizant that the anticipated reconciliation between the former political foes was now an official fact, increased the volume of their cheers to an extent that made it almost impossible for the two principals in the scene to tell what was saying to the other.

MEETING PREMATURE.

"Been taking some air at the springs?" commented the Senator.

"When did you get here?" "Got here this morning by water. Had a nice trip, but it was a little rough. I am a fine sailor, however."

The meeting of the two leaders occurred prematurely. For two days the city had been excited by reports that they would be brought together at a reception to be held at the Lincoln Club, after the parade. The meeting was to have occurred at the club rooms, but within a few hours after publication of the news it became apparent that no club room in the city could care for the crowd that desired to be present.

MULTITUDE CHEERS.

Accordingly arrangements were made yesterday to hold the reception at the Lyceum Theater.

TALK WAR IN PARIS.

Kaiser's Act Alarms France.

Recognition of Mulai Hafid as Sultan Causes Intense Excitement.

Believed to Be Trick to Gain Supremacy in Moroccan Affairs.

Algier Conference World Defeated—Arabs Attack Troops.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PARIS, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Germany's haste to recognize Mulai Hafid as Sultan of Morocco has brought France and the Kaiser's country dangerously near to war.

Germany's proposition to recognize the brother of Abd-el-Aziz as his successor to the throne before he had given the guarantees exacted from the fallen ruler was bitterly denounced in official circles here.

It is felt that Germany, in sending its Consul at Tangier, Dr. Vassel, to Fez, is attempting to steal a march on the other European powers and become the dominant power in Morocco, which commands one of the gateways of the Mediterranean. That Germany has long coveted this position and has been jealous of France is well known in international circles.

Once before, Germany forced a crisis when the Emperor made an unexpected visit to Tangier and announced that Germany would insist upon the continued and complete independence of Morocco from exclusive foreign control. England had recognized France as the dominant power in Moroccan affairs, but Emperor William's sudden breach of the French-English programme to halt and precipitated an intense diplomatic struggle which led to numerous rumors of war. Both France and Germany did prepare for war, military preparations proceeding on a vast scale on the frontier.

FRANCE WILL PROTEST.

The Algier conference was called and a serious clash averted. Abd-el-Aziz was recognized as Sultan and promises were exacted from him to protect the interests of foreign nations and their subjects. Now Germany has taken a step which, France charges, is calculated to nullify the work of the Algier conference.

That France will make emphatic protest against Germany's course is a foregone conclusion and it is expected that the other European powers will give France their support, diplomatically at least.

Germany's notification of the signatories of the Algier act that it considered the actual situation demanded the immediate recognition of Mulai Hafid was met by Germany with no explanation. Many sarcastic references were made here today to Emperor William's peace toast delivered at a Strauss banquet Sunday night. At that time the Kaiser declared that peace in Europe was assured and Germany was the principal guarantor. Prominent men of anti-German sentiment took delight in pointing out that even while delivering this peace toast the Emperor undoubtedly was planning action which would threaten the peace of Europe and possibly of the whole civilized world.

ATTACK FRENCH POST.

In answer to Germany's call for recognition of Mulai Hafid before he had entered into any engagements with Europe, fanatical Arabs, who have been gathering on the Algerian frontier, attacked the French post at Boudjen yesterday.

France and Spain are engaged in elaborating a programme on the demands to be presented Mulai Hafid for the safeguarding of the common interests of Europe and America in Morocco. These demands are to be submitted to the signatories of the Algier act as soon as they are presented, and Germany was so notified several days ago. Germany took no exception to this course and it was presumed that she was entirely satisfied until suddenly there came this crash out of a blue sky.

There was no longer any question of upholding Abd-el-Aziz. Both France and Spain recognized that he had disappeared definitely from the horizon. What was proposed was to force Mulai Hafid to ratify the engagements of his brother, Abd-el-Aziz, toward Europe, before recognizing him. Now Germany comes forward with a proposition to recognize Mulai Hafid before he has given any guarantee.

ACTUAL CRISIS.

It amounts to undoing the work of the Algier conference and reverting to the status quo ante. The powers must decide between the position of Germany and that of France; the French position is considered here to be most loyal to the spirit and letter of the Algier act.

The French press is unanimous in considering Germany's action provocative and possibly productive of an actual crisis.

The attack by Arab tribesmen at Boudjen, the former stronghold of Mulai Hafid, on the Algerian frontier, on the French post yesterday afternoon, is of serious import. The hills surrounding the blockhouses

JAPANESE AGENT ARRIVES.

Sir Shogo Nagasaki Going on Special Mission to England and France.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

VICTORIA (B. C.) Sept. 2.—Bound on a special mission from the Japanese Emperor to King Edward and President Fallieres, the nature of the mission being to make public, Sir Shogo Nagasaki, councillor of the imperial Japanese court and personal member of the Japanese household, arrived by the steamer Tango Maru from Tokyo today. He said:

"Other than that my mission is a quiet one, I cannot speak of it."

Str. Nagasaki, who accompanied Prince Fushimi on his recent visit to England, said elaborate preparations were being made to welcome the American fleet to Japan, a special commission being appointed, consisting of naval officers and representatives of the foreign office to arrange details. The Naval Department will build three special liners at Yokohama and arrange for sixty small steamers to transport the sailors from ship to shore.

Tokio and Yokohama are also arranging expensive civic receptions.

WOMAN, OF COURSE.

WHO IS OWING
RUSSELL SAGE?Executors Look for Some

Eight Thousand Dollars.Millionaire Gave Credit

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Search is being made by the executors of Russell Sage for a mysterious woman who owes the estate $28,000.

Interest is lent to the hunt by the fact that this woman, who appears on the books of the estate as E. Rothchild, persuaded Uncle Russell to carry an open account with her without putting up any cash or security.

When Mr. Sage died, corporations, syndicates and individuals owed him sums of money aggregating $25,000,000, all of which has been collected except about $28,000.

One of the unpaid claims is against "E. Rothchild," for whom the executors have looked in vain. The woman, so far as the record shows, possessed Mr. Sage to buy 100 Erie common and 100 Steel common for her account, and left without putting up a dollar on margin. The "open account" shows Mrs. Sage or Mrs. Rothchild charged with $28,000. At current quotations the stock is worth about $180, and if the full market value is realized, the Rothchild stock can be closed out for the amount of the balance due.

For a capitalist whose operations extended over so many years and were so extensive at all times, Mr. Sage's estate contained remarkably few accounts not readily collectible. The prompt sale of collateral when notes were unpaid and the transfer of the stock to profit from loss account was the usual course, so that, while few cases of unsuccessful loan investments appear, it is probable that the long business life of Mr. Sage's aggregate of losses was heavy.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Mabel Hallam's declaration that the negro George Richardson is positively not the man who assaulted her has thrown the authorities into a state of complete upset plans for the procedure of the special grand jury and the police department.

Mrs. Hallam and her husband were given another siege before the grand jury this morning. Late this afternoon the police took a hand in the quizzing, the woman being questioned at length by Chief Morris and some of his officers. No disclosure of importance were made.

Additional claims totaling $10,708.90 were filed with the grand jury today by persons professing to have lost property at the hands of the rioters. The special committee appointed by the City Council to audit these claims began its work today.

The special grand jury probably will make its final return tomorrow. Indictments already returned number eighty-nine.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After establishing an entire town, including schools, stores, banks, churches, street, sewers, and houses, to accommodate a population of 3000 persons, organizing police, water supply and other municipal departments, the city of New York, without spending a cent, is to try the experiment of teaching the workers on the great Ashokan dam how to speak English, and the ideals of good citizenship. The dam, which is being built in the Catskill Mountains at a cost of $12,000,000, will require seven years to build, and when it is completed the town will pass out of existence, but the effect of the instruction, it is believed, will spread far and its influence be felt for generations.

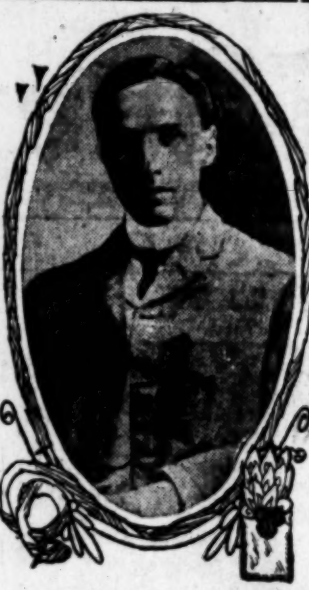

Nearly every one of these things are under way, and the city is about to undertake the experiment of teaching the Poles, Slavs and Italians the English language and the customs and ideals of the land of their adoption.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A man giving the name of Edward W. When the report was heard the members made a rush for the exits and business was stopped for a time. No one was hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Local detectives and relatives are searching San Francisco for trace of F. D. S. Bethune, the New York attorney, who disappeared from his home in the metropolis on August 24 and has not been heard from since. It is believed that he was suffering from nervous breakdown, due to overwork, and while in that condition wandered away.

Mrs. Bethune, wife of the missing man, accompanied by two of his brothers-in-law, Dr. A. Hansen and S. T. Foote, both of New York, is now on the way to San Francisco. The wife is suffering from nervous collapse, and is under the care of a physician.

On the morning of August 24 Bethune left his home in New York City to go to Buffalo, where he was to attend to some important patent infringement cases. Later in the day he telephoned his wife from the Grand Central Station in New York, saying he had been delayed. That was the last ever heard of him.

OMAHA (Neb.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Blanche E. Strom of Los Angeles was married in Omaha this afternoon to James M. Lony of Chicago, in a ceremony of romantic circumstances. Miss Strom and Lony have been in Chicago, and they had planned to be married in Los Angeles some time in the holiday season next winter.

They left Chicago, it is said, with no notion of being married until that time, but as they approached Omaha they fell to discussing the approaching marriage and decided, just before their train pulled into the station here, to be married in this city.

Accordingly they went direct to the office of County Judge Leslie, where they obtained a marriage license and then repaired to the parsonage of the First Presbyterian Church, where the marriage ceremony was performed by Dr. Edward Hart Jenks. When applying for the marriage license the groom gave his age as 29 and his bride's as the same.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evidence of returning prosperity have been presented in no uncertain way to hundreds of railroad employees this week.

Beginning September 1, a number of railroads have relaxed their iron-bound retrenchment rules a little. Shop forces have been increased and hours have been lengthened. Additional men have also been made to work in other departments which were cut down a few months ago.

At the Oak Lawn shops of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, additions to boiler, freight and machine shop forces have swollen the pay roll in these departments to nearly double its size of a month ago. There are now 800 men employed and it is expected that the number will be increased to 1000 before the expiration of two weeks.

Southern Pacific shops were opened Tuesday with a full force, after running with a greatly reduced force for eight months.

Employees in "Isauro Pacific shops have their working time increased from eight hours to nine hours. The force at work at the Atchison, Kan., and other shops of this road are said to be as large as has ever been employed. The pay roll at Atchison for August reached $16,000 as against $10,500 for July and $7000 for June.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WATERVILLE (Me.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After plunging 500 feet through the air, Charles Oliver Jones, a professional aeronaut and inventor of the famous "Junebug," fell a bleeding mass at the feet of his wife and child.

Before his fatal fall, Mrs. Jones, with 35,000 other spectators, had watched Jones lighting a fire in the gas bag of his airship, Boomerang. Just as it seemed that the man had saved himself, an explosion occurred and the aeronaut and the framework of his machine fell toward the earth.

Twisting and turning in his descent, Jones fell straight back into the fair grounds he had left but a few minutes before. He landed just a few feet away from his wife and child and they were the first to reach him.

The man was breathing when Mrs. Jones reached him, but he died within a few minutes. His body was mangled almost beyond recognition and it was wonderful that he lived a second after he struck the ground. Jones had reached a height of more than 500 feet when he noticed small tongues of flames issuing from under the gas bag in front of the motor. He grasped the rip cord and by letting out gas, endeavored to reach the earth. The machine had descended but a short distance when a sudden explosion occurred and developed the gas bag, the framework immediately separating from the bag.

The fragments of his motor and when the spectators reacted him he was lying under it. The gas bag was completely destroyed.

Lamm, who will take part in the coming international balloon race at Berlin, acted as pilot and was accompanied by Lieut. J. C. Foulers and Selfridge. The balloon took a southeasterly course. It landed safely this afternoon two miles and a half south of Potomac, Md., having maintained an average speed of twenty-five miles an hour for four hours.

The spherical balloon recently purchased from Capt. Thomas Baldwin was used. The officers had planned an all-night trip, but were compelled to wait until this morning on account of heavy rain. The flight today was for the purpose of trying out the new balloon.

FOG HOLDS MYSTERY.

WRECK REPORTED
OFF POINT ARENA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—From various sources tonight came reports of a wrecked vessel in a dense fog off Point Arena. There is reason to believe that the report is supported principally by the washing ashore of a quantity of lumber, preserved on the deck load of a coastwise vessel.

The life-saving crew from the Point Arena station which went in search of supposed wreck at 5 o'clock this afternoon had not returned at midnight and the fog precluded any possibility of sighting anything off shore.

The "Maritime" newspaper was unable to gain any confirmatory information. Among the vessels in this neighborhood were the Samoa, Pifield, James S. Higgins, Vanguard and the F. A. Kilburn.

AT NEW YORK HOTELS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the Cadillac, G. M. West, Bristol, P. Clark, and other hotels, a party of five, including Albany, W. L. Lipp, Belmont, G. M. Babcock, Albenarle, O. T. Higgins, Redlands.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

GUTHRIE (Okla.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The hotel keepers of Oklahoma had their semi-annual convention here today, with Jerry O'Rourke of Guthrie presiding.

The so-called "nine-foot sheet" bill enacted into law by the recent Legislature, was the object of onslaughts, numerous provisions being held unconstitutional and unreasonable by the hotel men.

Owners of such hotels are equipped with fire escapes say they will not comply with that portion of the law which demands a rope be placed in every room for use of guests in case of fire.

The law will probably be brought into court by some hotel man refusing to pay the required 20 cents for inspecting each bedroom in his building under this law. The action of retail merchants in boycotting such wholesale houses as sell direct to hotels at wholesale prices was condemned, and the State Corporation Commission will be asked to break up combines between retail dealers.

POLITICAL.

GOOD OMEN IN VERMONT VOTE.

Indicates Taft's Election by Huge Majority.

Plurality Figures Show How Nation Will Go.

Statistics Kept Many Years Support Theory.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The rule holds good and it never has failed. Taft will be elected by two million majority," is the way Republican campaign managers size up the vote in Vermont, which went Republican by nearly thirty thousand plurality.

They hold this indicates that the doubtful States will go Republican this fall, and they point to this fact in support of their theory. "Since 1880 the country has gone Republican in every Presidential election in which Vermont, in its State election, has rolled up a Republican plurality of 25,000 or more. On the other hand, the Democrats have won when the Republican plurality in Vermont has fallen below 25,000."

The figures of the past years are: Year President Rep. Pop. plu. In Sept. in Nov. 1880 Garfield (R.) 26,603 27,251 1884 Cleveland (D.) 22,702 23,132 1888 Harrison (R.) 28,408 28,408 1892 Cleveland (D.) 19,702 21,867 1896 McKinley (R.) 38,381 40,490 1900 McKinley (R.) 21,312 22,718 1904 Roosevelt (R.) 31,527 30,682

DEMOCRATS AT STOCKTON.

SMALL ATTENDANCE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) STOCKTON, Sept. 2.—State Senator George W. Cartwright of Fresno, will in all probability be elected temporary chairman of the Democratic State Convention, which opens here at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to nominate ten Presidential electors. No opposition to his candidacy to preside over the deliberations of the convention has so far developed, nor are there any rival candidates for the honor.

Less than 150 delegates have arrived today and tonight and indications are that the attendance will not be large. Theodore A. Bell and State Senator J. B. Sanford (both placed in the first round in conference with some of the southern delegates, who reached here this afternoon. James D. Phelan, Frank J. Sullivan, John F. Murray, Senator Caminetti, Judge John E. Baker, and other leaders are expected on the morning train. Judge Raker, chairman of the State Central Committee, will call the convention to order in Masonic Hall. Except of some talk of disunion in the Los Angeles delegation, harmony seems to prevail among the delegates now here. There appears to be no disposition on the part of the organization of Gavin McNabb forces to wrest the control of the convention from Bell. McNabb himself has announced that he will not attend the convention nor contest with Bell for its control. James D. Phelan has been decided upon by one of the electors-at-large, if he will accept, and Thomas E. Gibson, Judge D. E. Frank, and Eugene Green, all three of Los Angeles, are mentioned for the others.

Considerable bitter feeling prevailed in the Los Angeles delegation and it was stated tonight by several delegates that an attempt may be made to introduce a resolution asking Nathan Cole to resign as national committeeman. Bell, however, stated that the convention could not interfere in the decisions of the southern delegation.

NEWLANDS WINS.

NOMINATED AT TONOPAH.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) TONOPAH (Neb.) Sept. 2.—The Nevada Democratic State Convention today nominated Francis G. Newlands for United States Senator, and George A. Bartlett for Congressman from this State.

For Presidential electors, the three chosen without opposition were Charles Sprague of Goldfield, L. L. Hudson of Elko and Joseph Miller of Lander. George F. Talbot was nominated for elector of the Supreme Court and the convention adjourned after appointing Peter J. Somers, former Commissioner from Wisconsin, chairman of the State Central Committee.

NO POLITICS IN NAVY.

CANDIDATE NOTIFIED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) VALLEJO, Sept. 2.—R. O. Pierce, a candidate for Supervisor on the Republican ticket and a civil service employee at the Mare Island Navy Yard, has been notified by the Navy Department that he must either withdraw his name from the ticket or resign his position at the yard, owing to the civil service rule prohibiting the active participation of civil service employees in politics. The local trades and labor council has addressed a protest to the Navy Department, claiming that this ruling prevents the enjoyment of the full rights of citizenship by civil service employees.

FINAL RETURNS IN VERMONT.

Republicans Get Substantial Plurality, Prouty Winning by 23,776 Votes.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WHITE RIVER JUNCTION (Vt.) Sept. 2.—Complete returns from yesterday's State election in Vermont received today show the following: Governor, George H. Prouty (Rep.) for Governor, 42,281; James E. Burke, (Dem.), 15,553; Quincy S. Backus (Ind. League), 1252; Eugene M. Campbell (Prohibition), 826; J. H. Dunbar (Socialist), 278. The total vote of all parties was 66,747, and Prouty's plurality over Burke is 23,776. Of the total vote, the Republicans polled 71 per cent., Democrats, 25, Independence League, 2, Prohibitionists, 1-1/2, and Socialists, two-thirds of 1 per cent.

The total vote of the minor parties was 2,977, was the largest in the history of the State.

LA FOLLETTE MAN WINS.

WISCONSIN PRIMARIES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Sept. 2.—One of the greatest sensations of the primary election was the defeat of Congressman John J. Jenkins of the Eleventh District by Irvine L. Lenoir, former Speaker of the State Assembly and a strong La Follette follower.

The latest returns received today indicate that United States Senator Isaac Stephenson of Marinette has carried the Republican primary. It is estimated

BRYAN LOSES IN PRECINCT.

Fairview Shows Republican Gain Over Last Fall Election.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) LINCOLN (Neb.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a primary election yesterday, Lancaster Precinct No. 4, in which is located Fairview, the voting precinct of W. J. Bryan, cast 35 Republican votes and 28 Democrat.

The same precinct last fall cast 43 Republican votes and 35 Democrat, a Democratic loss of slightly more than 1 per cent. When Bryan lived in town he registered in Precinct A of the Fifth Ward, a polling place which usually could be depended upon to vote in about the proportion of three Republicans to one Democrat.

At the time he removed to Fairview he remarked jocularly that he was going to a community where the political division was more even, and he hoped in time to see reform Lancaster No. 4 as to make it over around to his way of thinking.

He will have from 10,000 to 15,000 plurality over S. A. Cooke, who is second in the race. William H. Hatton of New London and Francis E. McGovern of Milwaukee are in a close race for third place. For the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, Neal Brown of Wausau leads Melvin A. Hoyt of Milwaukee by a safe plurality.

KAHN RENOMINATED.

TAXPAYERS CONGRATULATED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—The Fourth Congressional District tonight renominated Julius Kahn for Congress. There was no opposition, it having been stated several days ago that the candidates had decided to place themselves out of the forty-one votes of the convention. The Committee on Platform endorsed the national and State Republican platforms, and recommended taxpayers upon the achievement of Gov. Gillett and the present State administration in reducing the tax rate to 40 cents, and commended the California delegation in Congress for support of legislation securing numerous large appropriations for California.

GOV. WARNER LOSES.

BRADLEY FOR MICHIGAN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) DETROIT, Sept. 2.—With returns in from a large majority of election districts of the State, Dr. J. L. Bradley, of Eaton Rapids, State Auditor-General, has it is conceded, defeated Gov. M. E. Warner, by about 2500 votes, the Republican nomination for Governor.

SHALLENBERGER IN NEBRASKA.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) OMAHA, Sept. 2.—Returns from yesterday's primary election throughout the State are still far from complete. The chief interest is centered in the three-cornered race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and the indications are now that A. C. Shallenberg of Alma, winner by a safe plurality, will Major James C. Dahlman of Omaha, second and George W. Berge, of Lincoln, third. Dahlman carried Douglas county, (Omaha), by 2900, and also secured a good lead in several counties in the northwest part of the State.

Lincoln and Lancaster county gave a plurality to Berge, the precinct in which Mr. Bryan is showing 25 votes for Berge and 3 each for Shallenberg and Dahlman. Mr. Berge, on the Republican side, George E. Sheldon, incumbent, was announced for the nomination for Governor.

IDAHO CONVENTION REBELS.

BRADY SLATE LOSES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) BOISE (Idaho) Sept. 2.—The Republican State Convention gave Idaho its biggest political surprise today, when at the eleventh hour it defeated the State ticket agreed on by Chairman Brady, the nominee for Governor.

One hundred and fifty-nine delegates more than a majority of the convention signed up to support the opposition ticket that was finally nominated. So strong was this movement that for a time it threatened to wipe out Brady.

After Hamer had been nominated the opposition to the insurgent slate practically quit.

There was a warm fight, strongly backed by Senator Heyburn, against the primary plan, and it was defeated 189 to 164, the local option plan being adopted.

The ticket nominated: United States Senator, Weldon H. Heyburn of Shoshone; Congressman, Thomas R. Hamer of Prudent; Governor, James H. Brady of Blaine; Auditor, Stayer of Boner; Treasurer, C. A. Hastings of Newport; Mine Inspector, P. C. Moore of Shoshone; Superintendent of Public Instruction, S. Belle Chamberlain; Probation Officer, Edgar Wilson of Ada; John Lamp of Owyhee, A. A. Crane of Kootenai.

POLITICAL BRIEFS.

Hudspeth Bryan's Manager.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Robert F. Hudspeth, chairman of the New Jersey State Democratic Committee, announced today that he has been appointed and has accepted the position of vice-chairman of the National Democratic Committee and that he will be eastern campaign manager for W. J. Bryan.

Sherman Favors Hughes.

OSWEGO (N. Y.) Sept. 2.—In a letter addressed to Rev. R. W. Getter and Prof. C. H. Edwards, chairmen of this city, James S. Sherman, Republican Vice-Presidential candidate, expressed himself unequivocally in favor of the renomination of Gov. Hughes.

Dry Candidates Named.

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Sept. 2.—New York State today named a full slate of dry candidates, headed by the Rev. Dr. George E. Stockwell of Fort Plain for Governor.

SUNSET ROUTE MAKES MONEY.

Southern Pacific Road Pays Good Dividends.

Earns Nearly Eight Per Cent. on Common.

Harriman Roads Show up Well for Past Year.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific earned close to 8 per cent. on its common stock in the late fiscal year, so that the margin above the present 6 per cent. is substantial.

There are no developments, no financial plans, pending in the Southern Pacific company's affairs. To Wall Street the rise in the shares of the road means that the public distrust, which used to be felt of E. H. Harriman and his associates, is fast dissipating itself and fading away.

Investors here have been looking back on the panic and find that dividends have been scaled on the stocks of such companies as Pennsylvania, Atchafalpa, New York Central, Coast Line, L. & N., and others and yet the Southern Pacific with its 6 per cent. dividend, and Union Pacific, with its 10 per cent. dividend, have gone through this panic not only with dividends maintained and ample margins to spare, but with excellent prospects for the future.

The surplus for dividends is considered very satisfactory to the officials of the company. The earnings of the company are now matched up against the earnings of the fall of 1907, which from the viewpoint of net results, were the worst the company has experienced since Harriman's presidency.

From July 1 to December 31, 1907, the gross receipts of the Southern Pacific increased nearly $7,000,000, or over 11 per cent., yet its net earnings decreased $4,270,000, or 21 per cent., inasmuch as the expenses showed the extraordinary increase of $10,250,000.

FORECLOSURE ON BONDS.

PITTSBURGH WABASH ROAD.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Foreclosure proceedings against the Pittsburgh Wabash Railroad Company, on the first mortgage and property given to secure first mortgage bonds, were commenced in Federal Court here today by the Mercantile Trust Company of New York.

The suit is brought against the railroad by the Equitable Trust Company of New York and Henry W. McMaster, Francis H. Shelding, receiver of the Pittsburgh Wabash Terminal Railroad Company.

The mortgage was given May 10, 1904, to the Mercantile Trust Company as trustee of first mortgage bonds to the amount of $200,000, of which $200,000 are now outstanding.

Building Road from Seattle. SEATTLE, Sept. 2.—Work will begin here tomorrow on the construction of the first eight miles of the Union Pacific out of this city. Two brothers of Spokane were today granted the contract for building the road to Black River Junction. As it is necessary for the company to have men in the field, the working force of 25, the start will be made tomorrow with a small crew. About $100,000 will be expended on this first section of the road.

CONTEMPTIBLE.

HOUNDS WOMAN HE RUINED.

TENDERLOIN ROMANCE HAS QUELLED IN POLICE COURT.

Faithless Lover Goes Too Far in Preying Upon Reformed "Mary Smith," and Line of Policemen Are Needed to Protect Villain from Her Infuriated Husband.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A woman described by the police as "Mary Smith" was arrested yesterday on the street, charged by Joseph Cutler, living at Seventh and Race streets, with robbery.

She told the police and Magistrate Gallagher that several years ago Cutler persuaded her to elope to a good home by a promise of marriage, but that he refused to marry her and took her to the Tenderloin, giving her nothing for her support. Two years ago, when he had no more money, she met a man who had known her as a girl in her home city and they were married.

When Cutler found her living an upright life he sought her out in her home, and she refused to elope with him. Cutler, she said, circulated stories of his former intimacy with her. Because of this she and her husband were forced to move from neighborhood to neighborhood, until they finally lost Cutler. When he saw the woman on the street yesterday he made the accusation.

Before Magistrate Gallagher today a line of policemen stood between the infuriated husband and Cutler, who stood in a person, whereupon the Magistrate exhausted his vocabulary on Cutler, and then held him in $500 bail for trial on the charge of disorderly conduct.

The husband of "Mary Smith" took her home.

GRAPE GROWERS ACT.

Meet at Lodi to Fix the Price and Resist the Wine Makers' Association.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LODI, Sept. 2.—Decisive action was taken today by a committee representing prominent grape growers of this district, who met about 6000 acres of vineyard land, and who announced that they would organize for the purpose of resisting the offers of the California Wine Association, which is endeavoring to fix the price of grapes at 40 cents per ton for grapes. A mass meeting will be held here Saturday evening for the purpose of establishing a price. The letter is not accomplished by the association, there is a prospect that the grapes may not be gathered.

FRISCO LINE TO FIGHT LAW.

Railroad Will Attack Radical Oklahoma Legislation.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) GUTHRIE (Okla.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Attorneys for the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway announce they will attack in the courts the constitutionality of the McCalla act passed by the last Legislature, which prohibits foreign corporations transferring cases from State to Federal courts and under which act the Secretary of State recently declared forfeited the charter of the Frisco in Oklahoma. Railroad companies are confident of knocking out the law.

swarmed with Moorish warriors on foot and on horseback.

The fighting continued until 7 o'clock in the evening, the French finally beating off the enemy after the Arabs had sustained heavy losses. The French had two men killed.

A renewal of the attack is expected. It is estimated that 15,000 Moors surround the French post. The French reinforcements have reached Boussat, forty miles from Boudenh.

BERBERS ATTACK FRENCH STATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) COLOMBE-BECHER (Algeria) Sept. 2.—Information transmitted from Boudenh and Bonassat, by means of signal flags, reports that the Berbers renewed their attacks on the French post at Boudenh during the night. They attempted to carry the signal station at the rear of the block house. A number of violent rushes were made, but they were repulsed with great slaughter. The attacks came to an end at daylight. The French lost three men.

The Berbers are reported as raiding to the south of Boudenh. Algerian cavalry has been sent in pursuit of them.

Further details of the fighting of yesterday says the Moors displayed the wildest fanaticism, the horsemen charging against the fire of the machine guns almost to the walls of the block house.

GERMANY WOULD RECOGNIZE SULTAN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—During a visit to the State Department today, Count Hatzfeldt, the German chargé d'affaires, called attention to the Berlin dispatch, acknowledging it to be the opinion of the government that the recently received proposal from the Sultan of Morocco by the signatories of the Algeiras conference would be the basis of a new treaty between the Sultan and the German government.

The German attitude on the matter appears to be one of expediency and to await affairs.

The United States was a signer of the Algeiras conference but accompanied this with a stipulation that in accepting the declaration of the conference to American citizenship, it did so without assuming obligation or responsibility for its enforcement.

Long Persecution of Male Members of Imperial Family Ends When Adversers of Monarch Point Out Personal Danger Involved in Attitude Toward Prince.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) VIENNA (Austria) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Private dispatches from Constantinople reveal that it was only under the severest pressure from the reform party that the Sultan consented to receive his brother, and probable successor, Prince Reshad, whom he had not seen for twenty-five years. The Sultan has persecuted the male members of the imperial family long and scandalously, and even now refuses to become reconciled to them, although this is his personal concern, as chief of the dynasty.

The Young Turks, however, insisted that His Majesty receive Prince Reshad, and show himself with him as evidence of their complete reconciliation. The Sultan obstinately refused, because he had secretly planned to use the succession in favor of his best beloved son. Finally, the Grand Vizier and the Sheikh-ul-Islam went to the palace, and pointed out to the Sultan that his attitude involved grave danger to his person, whereupon the monarch consented to receive Prince Reshad.

SEARCH FOR WRECK VICTIMS.

Every Craft at Deer Island Pressed Into Service, but None Are Found.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) DEER ISLAND (Me.) Sept. 2.—The inhabitants of this little island and the remaining members of the summer colony, mustering every craft in the vicinity, searched for the wreckage of Penobscot Bay and the shores of its many islands for the bodies of the seven victims of yesterday's drowning accident.

The persons drowned were the Rev. John H. Hutchins of Billerica, Mass.; Miss Alice Paige of Washington, D. C.; Miss Cecelia Paige of Baltimore; Mrs. Lucy Crawley of Philadelphia, wife of Prof. Edward Crawley, who was one of those saved, and Miss Elizabeth G. Evans of Mount Holyoke College.

SENSATION IN COURT-MARTIAL.

Scandals at Fort Wayne to Be Investigated.

Department Commanders to Take Part.

Col. Daniel Corman Is One of the Accused.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The sensational of large proportions came out today in the appointment of the heaviest court-martial since 1899, when Commissary-General Eagan was placed on trial for calling Gen. Miles several kinds of names and for other offenses. It is to be held at Fort Wayne, the military post at Detroit, on September 23, for the trial of such officers as may be ordered before it.

Thus far, Col. Daniel Corman, commanding the Seventh Infantry, heads the court appointed today, consisting, besides himself, of six brigadiers and six senior colonels. It is to be assembled at Fort Wayne, the military post at Detroit, on September 23, for the trial of such officers as may be ordered before it.

The scandal arose in Carter's department when his obvious wife was not made a member of the court. The reason for not having Gen. Egan as a member is not apparent.

Col. Corman's name, so far as can be learned now, consisted simply in allowing the quartermaster's bills for the forage fed to horses owned by the contract surgeon to pass through his office. The few here who know the facts, which are said to have long been suppressed, expect the trial of Corman simply to pave the way for removing the lid from a great kettle of corruption.

SAGE MILLIONS FOR INSURANCE.

TRUSTEES OF FUND FOR POOR WORKING ON PLAN.

Propose to Use $10,000,000 in Furnishing Life Policies Below Cost to Those Unable to Pay Rate Charged by Big Companies if It Proves Practicable.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Backed by the millions of the Sage foundation, to which Mrs. Russell Sage has already turned over $10,000,000 for elevating the economic condition of the poor, trustees of the fund are engaged in an investigation of an extensive plan which will result in providing life insurance below cost to those who receive the benefit of such insurance, but who may not be able to afford the luxury of life insurance at the rate charged by the big companies.

Since the middle of last June Dr. Lee Franklin, who is well known in charitable organization work, has been in Europe as the agent of the Sage foundation, studying the practical operation of the new concept of insurance as practiced by the German and other governments. Dr. Franklin's associate in this work is Miles M. Dawson, assistant expert for building the Society of Money, the Armstrong Legislative Committee, with Gov. Hughes as its organizer brought out the extraordinary investigations in 1905 and laid out the foundations which have since revolutionized the business of life insurance in this State.

NEW COMET DISCOVERED.

Prof. Morehouse at Lake Geneva Observatory Gets Photograph of Phenomenon.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LAKE GENEVA (Wis.) Sept. 2.—Director Edwin H. Frost, of Yerkes Observatory, tonight announced the discovery of a new comet through photographic observations made by Prof. D. W. Morehouse, of Drake University of Des Moines. The presence of the comet was known only upon development of three photographic plates exposed in three cameras last night. It is clearly defined and has a tail several degrees long, and was found in the constellation of Ursa Major, remaining above the horizon throughout the night.

Its position was three hours and twenty minutes of right ascension and 58 deg. north declination. The visual brightness, Prof. Morehouse says, could not be stated until after further observation had been made, but it will probably be visible through an opera-glass. The comet, he said, had no connection with Halley's comet.

Prof. Morehouse has been engaged during the summer in graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, where he had been carrying on astronomical photography under direction of Prof. Barnard.

RACING CLUB ENTERTAINS.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 2.—The weather here has improved, and as a result there was a large attendance at the various outdoor entertainments arranged for the officers and men of the visiting American battleships.

The Victoria Racing Club provided a complimentary racing meet at Flemington. Before the meet the club entertained a number of officers at luncheon. The chairman of the club proposed the health of King Edward and President Roosevelt, characterized them as "the two greatest rulers of white men, and the two greatest sportsmen of the world."

This evening the state government entertained the admirals and senior officers at a reception. The function was elaborately arranged, and was presided over by 8000 persons. At the same time this reception was being held, the state government entertained the American sailors and marines at a smoking concert.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Gussie D. Ogden Drevitz, who is a sister of Mrs. Ogden Armour of Chicago, has been sued by her husband for alimony.

Ernest Drevitz filed an answer and cross petition today to the suit of his wife for divorce, filed last July 7. By way of cross-petition he charges Mrs. Ogden Drevitz with gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty.

Pretty Teamwork Is Again Feature of Game.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Portland got only one stingy hit off Dolly Gray today and lost in the second game of the series with the champions by a score of 5 to 1.

For the first seven innings the game was fairly close, with Portland winning striking distance of a victory, provided the locals had happened to find their batting eye.

The eighth inning disillusioned those who thought Portland had a chance. By virtue of a three-bagger and assisted by three errors by the Beavers, the Southerners made three runs and clinched the game.

Neither side got a run for three innings, although there were two close decisions at the plate in the first and third. Bernard was relegated to the bench in the first inning by Umpire Perrine for balking back at him and been called out while sliding to home plate. Brashear took his place on second and Brashear went to right field.

Brincat later got a two-bagger and a three-bagger, showing he is there with the willow as well as the surprise.

Los Angeles started the run-getting in the fourth. Dillon, the first man up, dropped a Texas leaguer over second and took third on Wheeler's single. Delmas singled to right, scoring the Angels' captain. Wheeler came home when Ryan neared the ball too long.

Portland got its lone single and one hit in the same inning in a fashion quite out of the ordinary. Johnson got a base on balls, Danis doubled, and Hatfield walked, filling the cushions. Bassey was at bat and Gray pitched a low ball that glanced from Eastery's glove and hit the umpire.

Very few of the fans saw what happened and were also surprised to see Johnson, Wheeler, Danis, and Hatfield and the other two runners move up a base. The run was scored on the rule that base runners shall advance a base if a ball delivered by the pitcher shall pass the catcher and touch the umpire or any fence or building within ninety feet of the home plate. Bassey later tied to Dillon and Conney went out at first, retiring the side.

While Portland did not show up well today, the team is trying and will probably recover from the slump. Such pitching and perfect teamwork as Los Angeles had up in the two games here would make it hard for a second division big league team to beat.

ZEIDER IN ERROR.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fans who visited Recreation Park today had no cause to complain of the brand of ball on exhibition, as apart from a crucial miscue by Zeider, the nine innings were errorless.

Danny Long's clever shortstop gave the game away to Oakland in the eighth inning by a wide throw to Williams as Eagan crossed the plate and registered the only run of the game.

Berger and Hardy were the opposing slabsters, and both pitched the major league article. Hardy had the Seals baffled throughout, fanning four and allowing no free passes. In the seventh he dismissed the side with four pitched balls.

Berger was also in fine form, and pitched himself out of all kinds of holes, and had not his support fallen down in the fatal eighth he might have been working still, as La Longe should have been an easy out.

Curtis got to Hardy for a two-bagger to the left field fence in the first inning, but was caught between two bags when Zeider struck out. Berger was not so fortunate in the eighth, however. Heine opened with a single to the left garden and was forced by Eagan at second. Truck reached the second sack on Slattery's out. La Longe drove one out to Zeider who picked the ball up nicely, but threw wide to Williams, and the borrowed catcher was at first.

Williams transferred the sphere to Berry to catch Eagan at the plate, but he was called out by the umpire. The fans did not agree with the decision, but the run counted, and the Seals were out in one-two-three order in the ninth.

FOUGHT FORTY-EIGHT DUELS.

Never Wounded and Allowed Opponents Always to Fire the First Shot.

[Manchester Chronicle:] If ever a man earned the right to live at peace with his fellow man Bela Mandel

Hungary has earned it. Forty-eight men have faced him on the field of honor; forty-eight men have left the field, some wounded, some borne off dead by their friends, others unscathed yet owing their life to his magnanimity; all defeated. And never a wound has one of them inflicted upon him! He seems to bear a charmed life. What kind of fate has watched over him?

Mandel is a swashbuckler, no first eater. He has never sought a duel, hates duelling, he is tired of duelling and to escape the necessity of ever having to fight again he has come to make his home in America.

Hungary. Mr. Mandel, hopes never again to have to take his stand on a field of honor. "Duelling is the most unnecessary and foolish custom in the world," said Mr. Mandel. "I am now thirty-eight years old, but since I was a boy of eighteen I have fought forty-eight duels. Some have been with pistols, some with swords, and some with sabers. With the latter I have faced the most famous cavalymen of the world, and if it were merely a friendly test of skill I should be more than willing to meet any one now.

of fights. Sorry as I am to leave my native land, I am glad to be at last in a place where duels are not the popular custom.

"To fight a duel a man must have courage. The man who steps out on the duelling ground frightened is half-dead before the first shot is fired. Even more certainly fatal will the result be to him if fighting with sword and sabre.

"This fatal fear is the fear of personal injury; very different is the fear that comes of respect for a skillful opponent. Such wholesome fear is the greatest weapon of the duellist."

It is a grave danger to underrate your opponent's power. Attribute to him all the skill in the world, realize that he will give you a terrific combat, fear him in the sense that you respect his ability, and this will steady your own nerves. It is cowardly, senseless fear that unnerves a man, and makes his death or defeat all the more certain.

"In all the duels I have fought have never allowed myself to fear. I have always had the greatest confidence in my own ability, and at the same time the profoundest respect for that of my opponent. I have never hurried. Far rather would I let another man shoot first. Time after time I let my opponent fire, and the result was always in my favor. My honor and my peace of mind were my only aims."

"One of the last duels I fought before coming to America was one of the unnecessary affairs that are forced on every one in my country. We took places, fifteen paces apart. He fired first, and, as I knew he would, miss-me entirely. He was a pitiful object, trembling with fear of death, and showing more moral courage than he had given him credit for possessing. He begged me to shoot. For me to have done so, under the circumstances, though perfectly justifiable by the code duello, and the customs of the people, would, in my eyes, have been a blooded murder.

A MAGNANIMOUS ACT.
 "I walked over to the man, took handkerchiefs from his pocket, and walking ten paces back of him, hung on a tree. Then I returned to my position, and told him if I did not see a bullet through the handkerchiefs, there was no man. I fired, and the bul-

"Bullets, I suppose, have come close to me many times, but the only one to hit me merely clipped my sleeve and that bullet I cut out of a t-shirt in my trunk and now wear as a watch chain."

"I was forced to leave my own country once before I came to America this time. Duelling was the cause of trouble on that occasion, but I finally secured permission from the government to return home, and I did. My enemies would not allow me

The Minister's Retraction.
In Mississippi there was a color

Therefore, rising in the pulpit on Sunday, publicly retract his statement as to the honesty of Mr. Samson. "It appears that a remark of mine in the sermon of last Sunday, has been taken out of context, and I therefore am at fault. What I should have said was 'I see before me ten chicken thieves' not including Dan Samson." — (Herald)

Color Photography's Importance
The new processes of color photography may play an important part in criminal investigations. At a request held in London, when a vera wilful murder was returned against a man, the evidence for the pros-

tion was largely based on articles of clothing worn by the criminal when he was arrested and which were alleged to be blood-stained. An expert photographer produced a number of colored plates which revealed the presence of blood-stains on the articles in question much more clearly than the marks were discernible on the articles themselves. He explained that

HE LIKES THE SPIRIT OF IT.
Dr. Locke Comes Without Any Hobbies to Ride.

First Methodists Greet the Forceful Pastor.
Man of Great Eloquence and Broad-mindedness.

Their faces beaming with pleasure
at the spirit in which they were received by the Methodists of Los Angeles, Dr. Charles Edward Locke, of Locke, three daughters and a young son, arrived here yesterday. Dr. Locke comes from Brooklyn, N. Y., where he has been pastor of one of the great churches of Methodism, to take charge of the First Methodist Church, also counted among the "great" ones.
Dr. H. W. Brobeck and C. J. Ox-nam met the party at Ventura, and upon arrival at the Arcade Station found a number of members of the church waiting to greet them. They were then shown to automobiles and taken to the Fremont Hotel, where an informal reception was held.
The parlors on the second floor of the hotel had been handsomely decorated with flowers, and an hour was spent in greetings. The First Church may count itself fortunate not alone in securing Dr. Locke as a preacher, but also in securing his accomplished wife and comely daughters, who will undoubtedly prove a great spiritual and social force in the congregation.
Dr. Locke is a sincere, genial, approachable gentleman, who has too much hard sense to be spoiled by flattery or well-deserved praise of his work. He is small of stature but big in every other way, and when he sets
his dark, sympathetic eyes on you you read sincerity in his every utterance.
"I do not come here to do anything
unusual," he said, "I have no hobbies,
and I am no reformer come to turn the town topsy-turvy. I just want to do something for Los Angeles in the plain way, if I can, and I know I can do this with the help of the press far better than without it."
The improvement in Los Angeles since his last visit is marvelous. The "Los Angeles spirit" is known all over the country. I like it; it is the spirit of large ideas and the grit to carry them to success. And I like the people of Los Angeles for their broad generosity. We are overjoyed by the splendid reception accorded us today."
Mrs. Locke has the eminent conversational qualities possessed by her husband, while the two grown daughters have inherited the same cultured art. The gathering at the hotel was much like the coming together of a circle of old friends. Dr.
Locke and his family will remain
here until they can decide upon a private home.
Dr. Locke, prior to going East, occupied a pulpit in Portland, and last spoke to the Methodists of this city
when the corner-stone of the church of which he now becomes the pastor was laid. He is rated as one of the most eloquent men in the pulpit today,
and his broad-mindedness has attracted attention outside his own denomination. He is thoroughly orthodox and has no fads nor follies, but he has the knack of making the "Old Gospel" a thing of cheerfulness and attractiveness at all times.

WITNESS AND ACCUSED GONE.
INDIAN AGENT ARRESTED AND DEFENDANT JAILED.
Former Must Answer to Federal Court for Contempt, and the Latter Will Be Tried Today—Comedy of Errors May Prove to Be Serious for Both.
The last scene in a comedy of errors, staged in the Federal Court, was enacted last night, when a fugitive defendant in a liquor-selling case was located by Deputy United States Marshal Durkin and locked up in the County Jail. Earlier in the day Indian Agent Chaifant, Swain, proving witness in the case against Eugene Lieras, was taken before Judge Well-born for contempt. His case will be disposed of this morning. The comedy
may be serious to two men.
Lieras was in court Tuesday, awaiting trial on a charge of selling liquor to Indians on a reservation near San Jacinto. The jury was impeached and the trial began. When Assistant United States District Attorney, McCord called for the Indian agent he could not be found. Several deputies sent out to search apparently found no trace of him.
But Swain appeared before Judge
Wellborn yesterday morning to offer excuses for his conduct of the previous day. "Your honor, I was feeling ill,"
he asserted, "and took some brandy and quinine. I am not used to liquor, and it made me sick. I went to my room in the hotel and passed the day
there."
In reply to a question of the District Attorney, Swain admitted that he was under the influence of liquor that morning, but denied that he had spent most of the day in downtown saunas.
This is a serious matter, stated
Judge Wellborn gravely. "If it is true that the Indian agent who is endeavoring to convict the defendant of selling liquor to Indians was carousing about town, I consider it a grave offense. I will not decide hastily what is best to be done."
Although in the technical custody of the United States Marshal, Swain was allowed his liberty, and he promised to be in court this morning.
After the missing witness was discovered, the defendant took the occasion to slip away. His attorney, W. H.
Abbott, hastily went in pursuit of his client, and cited all the saloons in the vicinity of the Plaza, where Mexicans are accustomed to congregate.
Lieras was not found, and the case
had to be continued.
Durkin came across the missing defendant in the northern part of the city last night and arrested him. Lieras grinned cheerfully, and said in his broken English that a deed in the County Jail would suit him finely. His case will be on trial to-day.

Church, who arrived yesterday.

IS THE NAME.
IVANHOE POSTOFFICE WILL BE CHANGED SHORTLY.

Gathering of Citizens in Northwest
Section Consolidate Confusing Cog-nomena—City Park Established and Councilman Promises Many New Lights for District.

A drinking fountain, ten new street lights, a new city park, a new name for a branch postoffice, and a debate for a large section of the northwestern part of the city, are the things accomplished last night at an enthusiastic meeting held in Girches Hall, No.
2916 Sunset boulevard. A. J. Wheeler presided, and between sixty and seventy persons were present.
The entire district will hereafter be known as Sunset Hills and it takes in territory five or six blocks north and south of Sunset boulevard, and from the northwestern city limits east to the Olive-street substation of the Los Angeles-Pacific railroad, which is about half a mile east of Hoover street on Sunset boulevard. The postoffice for this section is known as Ivanhoe, and is at Sanborn Junction, which is the eastern junction of the Hollywood
and Colegrove car lines.
In the neighborhood also the real estate subdivisions of Capitol Hill, Crestmont and several others, and the different names in the same locality led to endless confusion. For this reason the residents gathered last night and gave the whole one distinguishing name. Several names were proposed, but Sunset Hills was decided upon as the most fitting.
The postoffice of Ivanhoe will soon
have the new name of Sunset Hills,
the postmaster of Los Angeles having agreed to any change of name that would not conflict with any other office name. Councilman Clappitt has promised ten new street lights. A triangular piece of land containing about half an acre which the city previously condemned for street purposes, will be made into a park, and a drinking fountain will be set up. This park, which will be about three blocks east of Sanborn station, will be planted to trees and flowers, and then the request made that it be turned over to the Park Commission.
To conclude, a night's work,
the Northwest Improvement Association was organized, and its new name hereafter will be the Sunset Hills Improvement Association.

Mrs. Ella Morton located her husband

woman's pretty romance, leading up

Address by District Deputy and Responses.

With impressive 11 o'clock ceremonies, Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, laid the corner-stone of the new Elks' building, Olive and Third streets. Several thousand people gathered at the scene of the ceremonies, and at intervals replied with cheers and applause.
A solid gold trowel, the gift of John Luckenbach, was used to lay the mortar.
At 10 o'clock, 1900 Elks, who had gathered at Elks' Hall, on Spring street, formed a procession to the vicinity of the new building site. Flags were flying and spirited music filled the air, and from near and far great crowds began gathering.
The ceremonies began at 10:30 o'clock

PRECIOUS SOUVENIR.
This concluded the simple but impressive ceremony of laying the corner-stone. At the conclusion of the ceremony, District Deputy Whichey returned the precious trowel to Exalted Ruler M. J. McGarry, who said:
"I am glad you left some mortar on
it. It will be a handsome and priceless souvenir, ever to be retained by me in memory of this auspicious occasion." Walter S. Moore, in an interesting address, traced the history of Lodge
No. 99, from its inception. The speaker gave credit to Perry brothers, proprietors of the old-time "Club" theater, for circulating the original list of names asking for the formation of an Elks' lodge, in Los Angeles. It was instituted September 12, 1888, and The Summerland was the first Exalted Ruler. The first charter was granted July 11, 1889.
John G. Mott's response to the 11 o'clock toast was heartfelt and sincere. He recalled the high moral sentiment associated with the mystic hour and lasted till near midnight. The crowds, with bare heads, gathered closely around the platform occupied by lodge officers, and presently, as a keynote, the band struck up "America." Rev. John L. Pitner, acting chaplain, offered a brief prayer, and turning to Secretary M. J. Conway,

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler
John Whichey, who presided, asked that the list of documents in the copper box, to be deposited in a niche in the corner-stone, be read.
Secretary Conway, facing the large audience, enumerated these papers,
which are copies of the Los Angeles
newspapers of September 2, 1908;
the copies of the California magazines for September; constitution, membership roll and memorial tablet of deceased brothers of Los Angeles Lodge, No.
99, B.P.O.E.
The copper box, which is about eighteen inches square, was handed to Treasurer Tracy Q. Hall, and all the officers of the lodge took their places around the stone, while District Deputy Whichey in solemn tones referred to the importance of the occasion, at the same time accepting from Frank D.
Hudson a solid gold trowel, the blade
about four inches square. The District Deputy, while laying the mortar, continued.

Receiving from Tyler Guy W. Yon-

District Deputy continued:
"In the name of that charity which we are taught to practice toward all mankind, that justice which warns us

of speedy retribution; brotherly love
is as water; and fidelity, undiluted filtering, sprinkling water on the

MERMAIDS IN LAND PARADE.
Sea Festival at Long Beach
Real Pageant.
Varied Programme Pleases
Many Thousands.
Prices Given, but Airships
Fail to Win.
With a mermaid queen and her court transformed into mortals ruling over 50,000 willing subjects, the Long Beach Festival of the Sea, formally opened yesterday with a programme that pleased everybody. Beginning with the dawn there was bustle and activity on every hand.
A conservative estimate of the number of visitors to the queen of beaches is between 15,000 and 18,000. They began coming on the first car and before 5 o'clock the Pacific Electric was adding carloads, and an hour later passenger cars were being loaded with available cars in service on the southern division. The streets filled up rapidly, and all along the line of march was one dense mass of humanity.
It was a patient and good humored throng, however, and bore with fortitude the delay occasioned in assigning positions in the parade, to entries which came in unannounced almost at the last moment. Mermaids and sailors worked hard and earnestly, but it was 11 o'clock before the starting signal was given.
When the long parade did finally swing down Pine avenue, it was an eye-opener, and eclipsed all previous efforts of the kind in Long Beach.
Floats, bands and decorated cars followed in quick succession, bringing forth plaudits as each passed. There were eight divisions, each led by a band, and they occupied over an hour in passing. Autos in charge of the police slowly preceded the parade, driving along the gutters and clearing the streets of sightseers.
THE PROCESSION.
Five mounted trumpeters headed the parade, preceding the Long Beach Municipal Band. Then came the Queen's float, a miniature of the queen's room
of the preceding year, and on either side two little girls, Thelma Callahan and Ruth Bittling. Behind the float came the ladies of the court in decorated carriages. Gregory's Ocean Park Band came next leading a series of allegorical floats, beautiful and novel in their design.
First was Ancient Long Beach with its ramshackle postoffice. Manning this float in calico dresses and trousers made from father's pants, were Miss Bulah Book, Olive Young, Julia Andrews, Lucille Pinkerton, Louise Mc-Elroy, Katy Welmer, Bessie Kenney,
Mary Taylor, George Little and George Hall.
Future Long Beach was shown in two skyscraper buildings and a steel roller coaster, and a ship in the water.
Miss Edith Wood represented "Progress," while Misses Bess Woodville,
Georgia Hobbs, Nell Doran, Cora
Whipple, Miss Harkness and Edith Milliken in tailor made costumes represented "Utility."
On the harbor float, representing a sea, with the sun just setting, and small ships sailing on the calm water,
were seated Miss Nettie Whiteside, Captain; Miss Myrtle Haskins, Miss
Vera Craig, Miss Olive Stratton, Miss Ethel Loree, Miss Dorothy Little and Master Little.
The bathing float was a typical beach scene, and on the glistening
sands, seated in varied bathing costumes, were Miss Alice Flier, Miss Helen Henry, Miss Flora Shilling, Miss
Ruth Knoll, Miss Violet Fastenau, Miss Sadie Hough, Miss Mable Martin, Miss Ruth Hilbard, Miss Katherine Knott, and Miss Theodore Gordon.
Willey's Majestic Band came next,
preceding the fishing float decorated
with fish nets. On the rear was a small pier from which young ladies
fished and caught herring, bass and other things. On the float were Miss
P. Campton, captain; Mrs. Pillsbury,
Miss Hinton, Miss Young, Miss Pitt,
Miss Merchant, Miss Persons and Miss
Thompson.

GRECIAN COSTUMES.
The anchor float, on which was a huge anchor in a boat, carried Miss Wimmer, Miss Lulu Gwartney, Miss
Pauline Mills, Miss Pearl Kinney, Miss
Ruth Arnold, Miss Edna Locke, Miss
Ruby Reed, Miss Fay Edmundson,
Miss Janet Robertson, Miss Margaret
Troth, Miss Jean Kennedy, Miss Cora
Kennedy, Miss June Stevenson, Miss Elizabeth Merriam, Miss Orva Marshall, Miss Violet Fastenau, Miss Sadie Hough, Miss Mable Martin,
Miss Ruth Hilbard, Miss Katherine
Knott, and Miss Theodore Gordon.
Willey's Majestic Band came next,
preceding the fishing float decorated
with fish nets. On the rear was a small pier from which young ladies
fished and caught herring, bass and
other things. On the float were Miss
P. Campton, captain; Mrs. Pillsbury,
Miss Hinton, Miss Young, Miss Pitt,
Miss Merchant, Miss Persons and Miss
Thompson.
On the music float was a big lyre
guarded by Miss Yrda Ahlberg, Miss Anne Warford, Miss Pearl Kinney, Miss Eva Kelsey, Miss Helen Garrison, Miss Jeral Garrison, Mrs. A. R.
Rankine, Miss Gladys Rankine, Miss
Ford Garner, Miss Funkhouser, Mrs.
Funkhouser, Miss Jacques, clad in blue and playing various string instruments.
The education float was manned by Pythian Sisters and showed a huge book with well-thumbed leaves, but whether a dictionary or physiology was not noted. On this float were Mrs. W. H. Austin, captain; Mrs. G.
braith, Mrs. Burson, Mrs. A. A. Eno, Mrs. Hilligan, Mrs. L. C. Pauley, Mrs.
J. H. Brakeman, Mrs. O. A. Kinnam
and Mrs. S. H. McConnell.
The flower float was decorated entirely in gay flowers in the festival colors of red, green and orange, and carried by Miss Gladys Rankine, Mrs.
Misses Anna Mussetter, Ada Gauder
and Mrs. Powell.
Then came the Star Spangled banner float. On this were a score of young ladies clothed in the American flag,

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The petition for a special election in charter amendments will be filed this week, and members of the City Council propose a number of amendments in addition.

Justice Pierce yesterday dismissed a charge of disturbing the peace lodged against W. M. Sinnamon, Florence, by W. J. Mitchell.

A fiery denunciation of C. H. Keefer by Joseph Gahn was ordered filed by Judge James yesterday during the trial of the May divorce suit, which will be concluded this morning.

Judge Bordwell continued for further hearing the habeas-corpus proceedings instituted by William Bashford to take his daughter, Helen Bashford, from the custody of her mother, Mrs. George Kresler.

A woman told her story yesterday in the Police Court of how she was held up by an amateur bandit and identified John Murray. He was held for trial in the Superior Court.

De Long, who was charged with abducting a married woman, was set free by Justice Frederickson, but arrested on another charge.

AT THE CITY HALL.

COUNCIL PLANS AMENDMENTS.

NINE MEMBERS FROM WARDS SIX FROM CITY AT LARGE.

Increase in Salary to Three Thousand and a Year, and the Abolition of All Appointive Municipal Boards Are Features of the Proposed Charter Changes.

The petition for a special election in Los Angeles to submit six charter amendments proposed by a civic organization has been completed and it was decided yesterday to file it this week with City Clerk Leland for action by the Council at its next meeting. It contains 10,540 signatures, which is about 1000 more than is required by the per cent. of the vote fixed by the charter.

Should the petition be sustained by verification of the Great Register—which remains to be seen—the six amendments proposed may not be the only ones submitted to the people. Councilmen have been discussing other features ever since it was announced that the petition had enough signatures.

As an alternative to the proposed amendment electing all the members of the Council at large, the Councilmen favor an amendment providing that one Councilman shall be elected from each ward, as at present, and six from the city at large. This, they argue, will preserve democratic government and direct representation and at the same time make the Council a larger and more general membership. Councilmen also discuss the feasibility of abolishing all appointive municipal boards and commissions, such as police, fire and parks, and imposing their duties on committees of the Council. This, they say, will bring the administrative affairs closer to the governing body—the Council—and will make the members amenable to the people, which is not now the case.

Another proposal is to increase the salaries of members of the Council to $5000 a year, and require them to give all their time to their duties. This, it is held, will invite the candidacy of highly capable men and improve the administration of affairs so that the increase will, in the long run, prove economy.

Members of the Council are not united on the plan to increase the membership, one of two favoring an increase of the number of wards without the election of any members at large. Other amendments suggested by Councilmen empower the city to condemn land for street openings under what is called the "Philadelphia plan." This permits the city to condemn not only land needed for streets, but abutting land, the idea being that the new street and its improvement so enhances the abutting land that the city may sell it for enough to pay for the opening and the improvement. Some members believe it is necessary for this here in view of many openings that will be necessary in the near future. Other amendments under consideration are to empower the city to carry connections with underground public utilities to the property lines at the expense of the property before street improving is undertaken so that the pavements need not be opened for such purposes later. Another amendment would give the city power to clean up sidewalks and remove rubbish and weeds, after property owners have failed to do so, and make the cost a lien on the property, as is the case in many other cities.

PRIVATE HOSPITALS.

How far anesthetics should be carried from a hospital was discussed yesterday by the Board of Health at its meeting. The decision was against the application of Dr. Etta Jeannecor for a permit to establish a maternity hospital at No. 1625 West Seventh street. The decision was against the maternity hospital, which the board considered a nuisance, and the board decided to refuse the permit. The board also decided to refuse the permit to Dr. Jeannecor for a maternity hospital at No. 1625 West Seventh street, which the board considered a nuisance, and the board decided to refuse the permit. The board also decided to refuse the permit to Dr. Jeannecor for a maternity hospital at No. 1625 West Seventh street, which the board considered a nuisance, and the board decided to refuse the permit.

WRITES LETTER.

A letter from Joseph Gahn, in which C. H. Keefer is denounced as a "lying scoundrel" whom Gahn says he would kill if he were in Los Angeles, was introduced in court yesterday morning by Mrs. Anne E. May. The letter was received Tuesday evening by Mrs. May, and was written by Gahn in Germany, August 18. In the course of it Gahn says: "I have just heard about your trial and Keefer's testimony. Were I there I would kill the lying scoundrel. I am so angry that I cannot work. It is terrible that he should have dragged in Miss Amy May's name, for there never was a nobler woman. It is fearful that a human being can be in existence who dares to open his mouth in such an infamous manner. I trust Keefer has been arrested for perjury." Attorney Rogers stated yesterday that Gahn's deposition will be taken by Delancy Nichol on his arrival in New York, or by Attorney Paul Foster, who will leave for the East in a few days. Keefer was not in court yesterday. Miss May, referred to by Keefer as one of Gahn's intimates, is reported to be a Chicago woman over 60 years of age, and of high standing in musical circles.

After Hotel Licenses.

In preparation for the enforcement of the new hotel license ordinance City Clerk Leland has sent out canvassers to ascertain the number of rooms and rates of rental in the hotels and boarding, lodging and rooming-houses coming under the ordinance. The license rates per quarter will thus be ascertained and be payable October 1.

Improve Fifth Street.

The Board of Public Works yesterday approved the recommendation of the City Engineer to improve Fifth street, from Olive to Grand avenue, with vitrified brick pavement and cement curb and sidewalks, and to re-surface the street with concrete. The improvement proposed and prefers waiting until the Hope street retaining wall has been built. The bids for the improvement of Merrick street, from Stephenson to Fourth, were rejected because the improvement plans must be changed to include a storm drain necessary.

WOMAN ROUTS CORPORATION.

SITS DOWN AND ARGUES OVER CONTESTED AREA.

Meter Installation Interrupted by Property Owner Whose Generalship Defeats Brawny Company Employee and Compels Him to Appeal Vainly to the Courts.

The anti-corporation attitude successfully assumed by Mrs. W. M. Sinnamon of Florence, August 28, in driving away men sent to her home by the South Los Angeles Water Company to attach a meter to her main, was explained fully to the Superior Court yesterday by W. J. Mitchell, an employee of the concern, who caused the arrest of Sinnamon on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The complaint charged Sinnamon with "loud, boisterous and offensive conduct," and that he threatened Mitchell with a "deadly weapon." But an Mitchell himself testified that Sinnamon had very little to say, "made no threats, spoke so low he could not be heard, and merely carried a section of a gas pipe as a cane, without flourish."

"I can't hear what he is saying," interrupted one of Mrs. Sinnamon's woman neighbors, make him speak louder.

"Tucked up her skirts," Mitchell resumed, "and sat down on the place where he had to go, and she said, 'You can't dig here if I have to sit here for a week.' I tried to reason with her, but she just sat there, and I said, 'You ain't got anybody but me to Sinnamon, who was standing by her. But the neighbor woman began to gather, and I saw I couldn't stay. So I told my helper to gather up the tools, and we went away. Sinnamon just stood there, and Mrs. Sinnamon, she stopped the work.'"

"My gracious sakes!" Mrs. Sinnamon said, after court, "I don't know whether I tucked up my skirts or not, but I wouldn't talk. I talked, and he went away. We own those pipes, and the water company has no right to put a meter on them. All our neighbors say the same about their pipes, too."

UNSETTLED.

CLAIM NOT ADJUDICATED. William Bashford's demand that the California courts take his daughter, Helen Bashford, aged 5 years, from her mother, Mrs. George Kresler, and restore the child to him under a decree of the Indiana courts, was not regarded favorably by Judge Bordwell yesterday when the case came up for argument in habeas corpus proceedings begun by Bashford. Bashford's counsel said that an appeal bond had been taken to the Court of Appeals, and the court continued the matter for hearing at a time to be named.

It appeared from the court records introduced that Mrs. Kresler got a divorce from Bashford in Indiana, by which she was awarded the custody of her daughter, subject to the condition that the child should not be taken from the State without the consent of Mrs. Kresler. She came to California last fall with the child, and married Kresler. Last January the Indiana court awarded Bashford the custody of his daughter on the ground that her mother is an unfit person to have her custody.

Judge Bordwell said, on the strength of decisions of the Supreme Court of California, that he was inclined to believe that this later order of the Indiana court would not be conclusive with the California court, the Indiana court had no jurisdiction of the persons of Mrs. Bashford and her daughter by their removal to California. He said that he will hear evidence as to Mrs. Kresler's present fitness to have the custody of her daughter, but will not enter into her past history.

May. The letter was received Tuesday evening by Mrs. May, and was written by Gahn in Germany, August 18. In the course of it Gahn says: "I have just heard about your trial and Keefer's testimony. Keefer was not in court yesterday. Miss May, referred to by Keefer as one of Gahn's intimates, is reported to be a Chicago woman over 60 years of age, and of high standing in musical circles.

another is 35 years old, and hardly responsible, and that he would not attach importance to such a statement if he made it. He also said that he was not feeling among the members of his family, and that he would not believe any statement that his brothers doubt the word of W. A. May.

A deposition was introduced from Mrs. Jessie Keefer in which she said that she had separated from Keefer in April, 1908, before any trouble had arisen between him and Gahn. This deposition was introduced to impeach Keefer's statement. The complaint and the correspondence between Gahn and Mrs. May out of revenge for family trouble created between Keefer and Mrs. May, in her concluding evidence, he denied her statements about his pouting spells, housewifely tastes, and moods of penitence. He was examined at length as to a mail-order of the secretary system, which he suffered for some years, and which he declared was not of a venereal character. Testimony as to a good reputation and character was given by several persons who have known him in Los Angeles and Chicago.

Testimony in the case will be closed this morning, with the exception of Gahn's deposition, to be offered later. Final arguments will be heard by Judge James next Wednesday in chambers.

John Murray, charged with holding up and robbing Miss Hope Foster and her escort, William McDonald, on the night of June 27, was held for trial in the Superior Court under $2000 bond at his preliminary examination before Justice Rose in the Police Court yesterday.

Murray, who is married, and up to the time of his arrest had been a good reputation, pleaded not guilty. Miss Foster positively identified him yesterday as the man who had held her up.

"I was on my way to my home on Brooklyn avenue the night of June 27, when this man stopped us," testified Miss Foster. "He carried a heavy knife and threatened to kill us if we did not give him our belongings. He took Mr. McDonald's property and then turned on me. As I ran to my home, my uncle, Onofre Arguello, came out and started in pursuit. Once in his flight, Murray stumbled and fell to the ground. He had not gone far when Officer E. C. King joined in the pursuit and captured him."

Murray did not take the witness stand, but stated that he had no recollection of the night of the robbery, and that he could not have implicated because of his inability to put up a fight.

statement which is being to stockholders of the John-
nated Gold Mining Company from which it will be gathered the affairs of the concern are reaching the crucial point with probability of the mine being as overhanging.

upon the stockholders at

and W. R. Mitchell have dea great part of their time to sufficient funds to take care of $1000 indebtedness which now
the company in the face of response of stockholders who are interested and might reasonably be expected to aid in the revival of the company. It has been effort is successful, nothing to be done but permit the foreclosure of the mortgage upon the asset of the company now held by the

of Trade to secure the indebtedness of local merchants and others.
report of Carl Anderson, the who recently examined the mine, and which was published in columns a few weeks ago, holds out little hope of future success if ent capital be forthcoming to put company on its feet and, in general interest of the local mining try as well as the direct interest stockholders themselves, it will be extremely unfortunate if the property be permitted to go under the hammer.
The reorganizers express hope stockholders will come forward
they fully realize the precarious on of the company, they also in-
that their resources have been exhausted and that there is no course left but to permit the foreclosure of the mortgage and to allow the property to be sold to aid in liquidation.

Looks Like Old Times.
Local mining man who has just returned from a periodical trip to the interest of several companies with which he is connected, says that the camp is resuming its old-time air of activity and that there will be another boom
in the near future. The Florence mill is expected to start up within the next thirty days and there is little doubt that the first run will cause a sensation.
Consolidated mill has been unusually delayed by the failure of a large fan to deliver the structure on time, but the manager says that it will be ready for operation by the first of next year.
The only cloud which is obscuring the sky of prosperity is the fact that the police law will be tampered with. If labor unions are allowed to remain in the present statuquo there is apparently nothing to prevent a return to former conditions.

Rawhide's High-Grade.
F. Taylor, who is in charge of mining department of the firm of Hutton & Co. of this city, is in receipt of advice from Rawhide to effect that very high grade ore is taken from the estate of the late Coalition Mines. The Schee-baugh and Trust Company of this city, depository for the bonds of pany, reports the receipt of five fifty checks from leases on the property, and as these payments come from smelters and samplers,
it is no doubt of the authenticity of the statement. Newton Schee-baugh, who reached here from Rawhide
last night, reports that the Mint lease and claimed 120 pounds of ore are rock and the result of an analysis that $1500 worth of gold shipped to the United States Mint is at the rate of $24 a pound for ore, and represents the result of day's product of superior ore.
The statement of the publication of these facts and the statement of the

at the higher figure.

Movements of Mining Men.
F. Schader is in Kansas City business connected with the Pioneer
Gold Mining Company, operating in the San Francisco mining district, Mohave county, Ariz.
D. Myers will leave for a ten day trip to Rhyolite and Goldfield Friday night. He will first visit the property near Rhyolite,
then proceed by automobile
to the property he has just acquired near Lee, afterward going on to Goldfield.
John Montgomery, president of the John Mines, and George Mack, secretary, have returned from examining the property. They report excellent running smoothly at the new mine, with the full confidence of the property and the cyanide tanks running smoothly. Several leases on the property are being made, and the company is making excellent progress in the extraction of ore, and are preparing to make some provision for the future within the near future.

laughter was mingled. The Eagles came next with a handily decorated float.
The Fullerton Band with a six-foot drum major and a diminutive girl
conductor attracted attention.
Then came a long line of prettily decorated carriages and autos, two more bands and the Long Beach fire department.

The judges of the floral parade
awarded prizes as follows:

Willey's Concert Band won first prize in the parade; Whittier State School Band, second; and Fullerton
Military Band, third. The Fullerton band protested the award, claiming that Willey's band was a professional organization, but their claim was not allowed.

AERONAUT INJURED.
At 2 o'clock Aeronaut Wright made a successful ascension with a serious ending. Cutting loose with his parachute, he descended at Fourth and Linden streets, striking on the roof of a house and tearing off a small cupola.
His hand slipping from the bar,
he caught a wire rope and slid
down to the caved, cutting his hand
to the bone.
Attempting to save himself, Wright
lost his balance and fell fifteen feet, spraining his ankle and bruising his right leg so badly that for a time
a broken bone was feared. The assistant, who landed safely.
The afternoon sports consisted of a vaudeville entertainment on the Queen's platform, a horse race swimming and a platform, in which Cleveland's Rex won, and some "pickup" short dashes of 100 yards by horses without pedigree or names. No time was taken in any of these. The daylight fireworks were one feature which was greatly enjoyed.

AIRSHIP FAILS.
The airship flights were not a success. Frank Hetchell, with the Eagle, assayed a flight from the grand stand,
but instead of sailing, he came down
with a mighty flop on the hard sand
from his body for a few moments.
Other flights will be attempted today.
Last night the streets were again illuminated and the coronation programme repeated before an audience of 12,000 people, closing with a fine display of fireworks.
The poultry show opened today and has been a success, great crowds of

PROGRAMME TODAY.
Today's programme is an industrial
one. At 10:20 o'clock there will be a monster parade, showing by floats and displays varied industries and advantages, both of Long Beach and Southern California. Several Los Angeles industries have entries. In addition all the allegorical floats will also appear.
At 1:30 o'clock the Long Beach Municipal Band of thirty-five pieces will give a concert in Pacific Park, and following this, free vaudeville stunts will be given on the open stages about
the city.
This afternoon, at the Auditorium,
will occur the coronation of the Juvenile Queen and the formal opening of her court, followed by a flower drill and other exercises. On the beach will be given a series of old-fashioned sports. The evening programme will be a repetition of last night's festivities.

GENIUS FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

FAITHFUL ON ONE JOB FOR EIGHTEEN YEARS.

Reception to Be Tendered Dr. H.
W. Brodbeck in Recognition of His Long Service as Superintendent.
Marvelous Growth Follows Systematic Organization.

For almost a score of years one man has presided over the destinies of the Sunday-school of the First Methodist Church. He has seen it grow from a small institution to the second largest school in all the world of Methodism,
and as progressive as it is big.
Dr. H. W. Brodbeck has been the genius under whose management as superintendent the great development has been made. For eighteen years he members any time during the past

eighteen years.
Single classes in the school number
into the hundreds, and one of them,
the "L.O.C." organization, has spread into other schools and into thirteen other States, and promises to become a great national Sunday-school organization with girls and young women.
Dr. Brodbeck is not a "D.D." as many people suppose, but a dentist by profession, and after busy days over his patients, burns the midnight oil over his Sunday-school details. During the years of his superintendency, Mrs.
Brodbeck has been superintendent of the Primary Department, which has done its full share, if not the "lion's share" in the growth of the school.

EAGLE ROCK REJOICES.

Opens New Operahouse With Meeting
to Celebrate Through Car Service.

Residents of Eagle Rock celebrated with enthusiasm the inauguration of through car service to the city of Los Angeles at Symphony Hall. The beautiful little operahouse was just completed and opened for the first time Tuesday evening. It was artistically decorated with pepper boughs and pink carnations and was filled to the doors.
A vote of thanks was given Howard Huntington for his kindness in promoting the interests of the valley, also to J. A. Gates for his public spirit in providing so delightful a social home
as Symphony Hall for their use. Messrs.
Cook, chairman; Cowan, Goode, Adams,
Booth, Herzog and others responded happily to calls for remarks. Good roads and civic improvements were discussed and a meeting arranged for the 14th inst. to better organize for further work. Impromptu songs and recitations were rendered.

many products which will flourish there have

A society composed of negro women in a certain southern city flourished under the name of "The Immaculate Sisters," and seemed, for some occult reason, to have a peculiar attraction for the fattest and blackest of the race. The notable celebration consisted of a street parade, in which, dressed in burrified white, with high gilt crowns and voluminous veils floating down from them, and with faces as grave to solemnity, the sisters rode about the public streets in a procession of open hawks, the slow and measured tread of the horses keeping time to the

SUGAR SEASON NEARLY OVER.

Output of Factory at Visalia Fifty Thousand Sacks—Best Growers' Returns Satisfactory.

VISALIA, Sept. 2.—The big sugar factory here, owned and operated by the Pacific Sugar Company, and in which Nathan Cole, Jr., and other prominent Los Angeles capitalists are interested, will close its season about September 10. The best harvest will be completed this week. The output has been very satisfactory, and compares very favorably with last year's.

Last year the company paid a flat rate of $5 a ton for beets. This year when the price was announced as $4.50 for all beets that tested 15 per cent, with 30 cents more for each additional per cent, many expressed doubt as to the outcome. The results were very successful, the farmers receiving an average of $5.75 a ton, an increase of 75 cents over last year. The beets averaged twelve tons to the acre, a monetary increase of $9.

Fifty thousand sacks of sugar were manufactured. The harvest planned for next year will be from 45,000 acres. The City Trustees have purchased a large lot south of the fire-engine house for additional municipal buildings.

Princess Alice still wears her regal coronet today. Yesterday she turned in 1491 points, enough to show that Pasadena is determined to support its favored daughter and maintain her in splendor at the top of the column. Alice is not allowing any of the precious moments that remain to go to waste, and she is determined that every day shall see her majority substantially added to.

The box of choice candies offered yesterday to the contestant turning in the highest gain for the day resulted in a general scramble. Things went with a whoop, and four scores of upward of a thousand each were handed over the counter to the scholarship manager.

Ellen Robinson made the banner showing, with a total of 159 points, and when she called at the office of the scholarship manager today she will find a box of choice candies to be purchased in the city of Los Angeles awaiting her.

TODAY'S PRIZE.

The special premium offered proved so pleasing to the young folks yesterday that it has been determined to repeat the experiment. A handsome book, a trophy which the lucky winner can treasure as a priceless souvenir and exhibit with pride, will be awarded the contestant turning in the best gain for today.

The offer only holds good for today, and the book will positively be awarded to the contestant with the best day's gain, no matter what the score happens to be. The winning of the book will have no effect upon the standing of the contestants, as far as the other premiums are concerned.

Homer Watson, the Westminster hustler, came in with 2120 points yesterday.

terday to bolster up his score. Homer is working for a scholarship in U.S.C. and he is not belying his title these days, for his scores tell of many hours of faithful work.

Homer's new bunch slides him over the head of Zarrah Morse, from thirty-sixth place into thirty-fifth. He hints that he will not stop going until he has mounted several rungs of the ladder which leads to success and an education.

A BIG BOOST.

Katherine Veronee had a pleasant surprise when she arrived at The Times office yesterday. She found a new subscription for two years from W. D. Smith of Yuma, Ariz., awaiting her. The 2000 points which she delivered therefrom, added to the result of her own work, gave her a total of 5044, and put her very near to the top of the column. Incidentally she jumps from No. 17 to No. 13, leaving behind her, Laura Easton, Ruth von Kirbach, Margaret Chung and Ralph Warren.

Little Shastor came places with Grace Tyler this morning. Her score yesterday amounted to 4917, including two new annals. She started after the candy, but failed to reach the winning number.

Gleenn Anderson and Teresa Camp change around today. Glenn going up, a notch and Teresa slipping back to No. 27. Glenn passed in 2125 points yesterday.

Laura Easton's score this morning is increased to the extent of 1735 points. Only the meteoric jump of Katherine Veronee forced Laura down a step.

Wallie Swain, with his eyes on that California Military Academy scholarship, came through with 1350 in a bunch last night. He passed over one new annal in the collection. Wallie's supporters at Soldiers' Home are helping him loyally in his efforts to qualify.

Homer Watson,

the hustling Westminster boy, who turned in a fine score yesterday.

As one of his country's defenders, From Alhambra Ralph Warren came in with 1310 points, including a new annal. Ralph wants a scholarship in the Los Angeles School of Art and Design and he is showing ready willingness to get out and hustle for it, and not wait for some one to supply a royal road to learning.

Though Lizzie Shapiro moved Grace Tyler down from tenth place to eleventh, it was not because Grace had been idling. Her own score was 1200 even, a good, consistent showing.

A new annal and 212 miscellaneous points put Lillian Trippensee's showing for the day up to 1212. Lillian maintains her hold on No. 31 with a safe margin between her and the nearest competitor.

Murray Royar turned in 1165 points, and Myrtle Hall 1015.

Hazel Franklin, the little church girl, has a birthday coming on Saturday night and she hopes that her friends will remember her with presents in the shape of new subscriptions and other tokens which can be turned into points in the scholarship contest. Hazel is working for a scholarship in the Von Stein Academy for Pianists and she would greatly enjoy being able to climb over the heads of Marguerite Jones and Alice Capron into the treasured first place, the ambition of all the contestants. She hopes that birthday remembrances will materially help her achieve her ambition.

Clarence and Orval Wesner played a piano duet at the entertainment of the Rebekahs last night. Clarence is a scholarship boy who is working for a course at the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music and Art and is preparing for a musical career. He is already quite an accomplished musician.

THE PRIZES.

Besides the valuable scholarships for which the young people are working, The Times offers fifteen cash prizes for those making the highest scores next to the top line, who will receive the prize piano. The cash prizes, totaling $1000, are arranged as follows:

It is a beautiful instrument of superior tone, handled by an old and reliable company as a special "feature," and is doubly guaranteed.

The Times offers musicians for its exquisite tonal qualities and responsive action. The case may be of rich mahogany or dark oak.
